

DID YOU KNOW...

Butterflies are great for gardens because they are attracted to bright flowers and need to feed on their nectar. While they feed, their bodies collect pollen and carry it to other plants. This helps fruits, vegetables and flowers to produce new seeds. Most plants need pollinators like bees and butterflies to reproduce.

Naturalist and veteran broadcaster Sir David Attenborough says spending time in nature – even just watching butterflies in a home garden – is good for our mental health.

One of the best things you can do to support butterflies and even have them come and visit your garden is to plant native plants such as wildflowers. Using native plants in your garden helps to increase biodiversity as well as provide food for butterflies and other pollinators. Not only that, but native plants are more likely to thrive and survive in your garden over plants that have more specific requirements.

Insects provide useful services to mankind and the environment in a number of ways. They keep pest insects in check, pollinate crops we rely on as food, and act as sanitation experts, cleaning up waste.

BE KIND TO INSECTS!

What's Happening

Willoughby Branch individuals recently had a boating outing with the Recreation Department and Chuck came dressed for the occasion! (those are anchors on his shirt!)

Once again, the Willoughby Branch raised butterflies from caterpillars this year. Jaime and Corrine helped release one of the thirteen Painted Lady butterflies.

Outdoor Karaoke gave Lynnne, Sarah and Loretta an opportunity to show off their singing talents.

Chris, RJ, Anatoliy, Buddy and Garry recently took a break from work to stimulate their senses and tour the Rockefeller Greenhouse and gardens. The flowers, trees and plants were so beautiful and fragrant!

Welcome

Due to recent retirements and staff movement, we have some new faces at Willoughby. Michelle is now a CSS in Group 2, and Mary is a CSS in Broadening Abilities. Both Michelle and Mary have many years of experience in day programs. Lori has replaced Judy as a Community Integration Professional and was a Job Coach at CES prior to coming to Willoughby. WE ARE HAPPY YOU ARE HERE!

Patrick joins us as the Clerk Typist. (replacing Gerri) Patrick has previously worked at VGC and CES.

THE 2023 LAW ENFORCEMENT TORCH RUN AND SPECIAL OLYMPICS SUMMER GAMES!

The law enforcement torch run came through the Willoughby Branch the morning of June 20th to get us excited about summer games and raise awareness for Special Olympics. We sincerely appreciate their efforts; thank you law enforcement!
